SELLS PORK AND POEMS

R. Q. Wickham of The Red Rock Ranch Says The Old Red Sow Is His Mascot and He Poetizes It.

Philosophy, Poetry and Pork, and a name which harkens back to Classic Rome, all these belong to "Romulus Quintillus" Wickham of the Red Rock Ranch, Glen Ellen. Mr. Wickham's ranch is a hog ranch as the recent on the latter part of his name attests although it was via "bringing home the bacon" that he first brought poetical fame to himself and the picturesque ranch in the "Valley of the Moon" where.

To the north, Sonoma Mountain.
To the south, San Pablo Bay.
To the east, old Diablo.
To the west, Mt. Hood so gray.

Mr. Wickham is not a classic poet. There is eternal spring however in his cheerful philosophy and every year about this time he is wooed by the Muses. His latest current verse starts off something like this:

"A mascot is a lucky thing.
Might be just an old brass ring
May be just a shaggy dog.
My mascot is the old red hog.

A mascot may be anything.
That to the owner luck doth bring
Might be just an old red cow.
But my mascot is the old red sow.

Not superstitions is Wick but just fanciful and with confidence born of experience is raising the famous Duroc hogs.

Rhyme and reason, a streak of fat and a streak of lean is to be combined in a little volume of Mr. Wickham's verse before long and many publishers are keen to bring it out. Wickham however is not anxious to scale the ladder of fame on the rungs of rhyme. He is far more anxious to be known as the master of the Red Rock Ranch, the owner of Cherry Defender, Duroc Jersey, who at 16 months of age weighs 600 pounds and is the head of the herd.

Pentameter is not quite the technical sense is what he revels in. Mr. Wickham has an expressive face and a genial personality which came mighty near keeping him deep in politics all the rest of his life but being from Iowa, something more substantial than the "trough" which politics provides asserted itself, so R. Q. went into the pig producing game, and while he has an official position at the State Home, informally and emphatically he is a producer of Durocs. He has a system all his own of providing green feed for his young pigs and he carries this feed through the summer and has green stuff all winter. As a result he has fast growing healthy stock, weanlings which command a price

FATHER MORAN PASSES AWAY

St. Francis Parish Bereaved in Loss of Pastor Who Gave Up Brave Fight For Life Thursday.

After many weeks of illness and after a brave battle to overcome a baffling case of pernicious anemia, Rev. Thos. P. Moran, late pastor of St. Francis church died in San Francisco Thursday.

Stricken down in the midst of what appeared to be perfect health, the reverend gentleman was seized with an attack of influenza and followed by pneumonia. He went into the hospital at Sacramento but ambitious to return to his parish here, got up too soon and on Easter Sunday was forced to leave the altar of his church during the celebration of the early mass. He suffered a relapse and alarming conditions rapidly developed which ultimately caused his death.

Father Moran was a man of splendid personality and had been the assistant pastor of St. James parish in San Francisco and also pastor at Tracy before coming here. He was a man of fine attainments and received his education abroad both in England where he was born and at Louvain.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock from St. James, 23rd and Guerrero Sts., S. F. On Tuesday at 9 o'clock a requiem mass will be celebrated for the repose of his soul at St. Francis church, Sonoma by Rev. Byrne. Friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend.

of $15 each.

It is while journeying around the bend before sunrise from the State Home to his acreage overlooking the wooded hills and winding vine clad Sonoma creek that Mr. Wickham voices the Muse of poetry and the esthetic side of his nature asserts itself. He loves the Red Rock Ranch is enthusiastic about the kind of pigs it produces and if you were to ask him how it happens that he combines poetry and pork or politics and pork he would probably quote you as an answer, his expressive stanza: "Every man should plant a tree etc."

If you should ask him to translate the axiom "big oaks from little acorns grow" he would tell you in pork parlance "why big hogs from little weanlings grow." and his interpretation of the pen "mightier than the sword" would be taken as the pen which Cherry Defender or any other thoroughbred registered Duroc occupies which shows the trend of this enthusiastic Sonoma valley producer's thoughts despite the Muse.

CHILD HURT BY AUTO

Little Son of Mrs. Delph Runs Into Fender of Hays Car and Has Narrow Escape.

The little four year old son of Mrs. Mamie Fochetti Delph of Second St. East had a narrow escape from serious injury if not death when he darted from a group of children with whom he was at play Tuesday night and ran backwards into the automobile of Dr. Hays and wife which was cautiously proceeding along the thoroughfare. The physician saw the children at one side of the road and had slowed up to allow Mrs. Burmester who was in the neighborhood to cross the street. When the street seemed clear suddenly the child who had been sitting among the other children jumped up and ran backwards toward the car, the fender of which struck the little one and knocked him over. Dr. Hays immediately stopped his car and went to the assistance of the child which he carried into the home opposite and there it was found the impact with the fender had broken the boy's collarbone. He was given immediate surgical attention by the doctor and is now doing nicely.

Dr. Hays and wife were much disturbed by the occurrence. Witnesses to the accident say it was unavoidable.

DEFENDANT WAS NOT AGGRESSOR

Max Hoffman Freed of Battery Charge at Hearing Before Judge Vaughn Here On Tuesday.

Tuesday was an unlucky day in court for the complaining witness in the Max Hoffman case, Constable Jack Murray, for he not only failed to get legal satisfaction but was named by Judge Vaughn of Santa Rosa sitting in the case which he pronounced one in which the Constable exceeded his authority and was in fact the aggressor. Murray sought to have Hoffman held to answer before the Superior Court on a charge of battery after an encounter at Boyes Springs during which Hoffman a battered head.

The testimony went to show that Hoffman and Murray were at outs met at the bath and Murray claimed that the former grieved his teeth and pounded the wall as the Constable passed by. Murray ignored the meekness at the time according to his own statement but some time later as he reached the club house decided to go back and arrest Hoffman for disturbing the peace. Meeting Hoffman walking from the bath house, Murray jumped out of his car and pounced upon him Hoffman warned him to let him alone and started to walk off but Murray followed him up and laid hold of him. A fight then ensued and when Murray's revolver fell out of his pocket and was handed to him by a bystander, he whacked Hoffman over the head with it. Hoffman seeing the gun, fought all the harder and Murray hollered for help claiming that he could not quell Hoffman because of interference. Testimony tended to show that the "some one" helped Murray to his feet and the John Doe who interfered with this "process" of arrest was not identified. Assisted by Ed. Quay, a by-stander, the Constable put Hoffman, whom he had cuffed, into a machine and after Murray washed the dust of battle from his brow at the Caliente Clubhouse he took his prisoner to Santa Rosa. A battery charge was then preferred. The Sheriff's office brought Hoffman back here and he was admitted to bail after entering his plea of not guilty.

Murray had no warrant for Hoffman's arrest when he mixed with him at the bath and as Judge Vaughn pointed out since the Constable did not arrest the defendant while for Hoffman was in the act of disturbing the peace (gritting his teeth) which is the only circumstance justifying an arrest without a warrant, he exceeded his authority and was in fact the aggressor.

Miss Helen Weatherbee of the "Anywhere Jitney Service," testified that she heard Hoffman tell the Constable to let him alone. Hoffman made a good witness for himself. Ed Quay's testimony was not as helpful to the plaintiff as the Constable expected and a youth named Pasquale Seaffini who testified at Murray's solicitation did not help his case.

After reviewing all the testimony Judge Vaughn rendered his decision and technically "panned" the Constable for his conduct and dismissed the charge against Hoffman.

Hoffman had been at liberty on a cash bail which he furnished through a certificate of deposit from a Petaluma bank where he had $500 on deposit. Attorney Sprague appeared did not arrest the defendant while for Hoffman was in the act of disturbing the

LEALE HELD TO ANSWER

Youths Accused of Theft In Springs District Have Preliminary Examination Tuesday.

George Leale and Eugene Casserly, the two young men said to have been "caught with the goods" after Deputy Sheriff Ryan got on the trail of the perpetrators of a number of thefts in the resort district last week were given a preliminary examination before Judge Small Tuesday. Attorneys Frank Dunn of S. F. and Wm. F. Cowen of Santa Rosa appeared for the defense and the case was prosecuted by Ross Campbell of the District Attorney's office. The story of the alleged thefts and the entrance of the Tom Morris cottage at Agua Caliente were recited, but attorneys for young Casserly maintained that he was an unsuspecting partner to the crimes if any had been committed. They sought to show that Leale was the bold bad man and had blazed the trail for the other boy, going a day before by himself to the Morris place, locating the old guns and relics subsequently found in the boy's tent, and then telling his companion that they could be had for the taking. The Casserly boy was declared to have had nothing to do with the fire thefts.

After hearing the eloquent and rather convincing plea, the Judge took the Casserly case under advisement but promptly held Leale to answer before the Superior Court, bail being fixed in the amount of $3000.

Leale (gritting his teeth) which is the only circumstance justifying an arrest without a warrant, he exceeded his authority and was in fact the aggressor.

Miss Helen Weatherbee of the "Anywhere Jitney Service," testified that she heard Hoffman tell the Constable to let him alone. Hoffman made a good witness for himself. Ed Quay's testimony was not as helpful to the plaintiff as the Constable expected and a youth named Pasquale Seaffini who testified at Murray's solicitation did not help his case.

After reviewing all the testimony Judge Vaughn rendered his decision and technically "panned" the Constable for his conduct and dismissed the charge against Hoffman.

COUNTY TO START WORK

Appoint Engineer and Make $1,640,000 Bond Money Immediately Available.

The Board of Supervisors on Saturday unanimously appointed Lloyd Aldrich as county highway engineer, in accordance with the authority vested in the board by the recently effective Ream Act. Coincidentally, the office of county surveyor, now occupied by Press Smith, was ordered abolished.

Mr. Aldrich will have complete authority to appoint assistants, office staff and surveying and leveling parties.

Offices for the new highway engineer will be opened as soon as possible, probably in the Bank of Italy building.

Mr. Aldrich declared Saturday, following his appointment, that he did not yet know where the first road work will be started, but over the week-end he expects to organize his staff, hire surveying groups and get under way at the earliest possible moment.

The resolution passed by the supervisors provides a salary of $4200 a year for Mr. Aldrich. Another resolution, submitted by the new highway engineer and passed by the board gives him power to appoint a first assistant at a maximum of $250 a month, a second assistant at a maximum of $225, two auditors at $140 each, five surveying parties, and five leveling parties, members of which will receive not more than $7 to $8 a day and a head draftsman at a maximum of $225.

The payroll of the engineer's office will amount to more than $7000 a month, it was estimated this afternoon.

The office force will consist of seven or eight persons, Mr. Aldrich announced, but details of the appointments have not yet been worked out. It is understood that W. H. Kingen, a surveyor of Modesto, will be on the engineer's staff.

Congressman Lea Shows Up Methods of Bulldozing Prohibitionists

In the discussion in Congress of war-time prohibition, Representative Lea went on to say:

WHILE THE WAR was going on I picked up one of the publications that is commonly sent to Members of Congress by these zealous representatives that I believe to a large extent misrepresent the churches and organizations for which they pretend to speak. One minister quoted therein stated, in substance, "After the war is over there will be a revulsion against prohibition legislation, and therefore we should be zealous to put this over now before conditions change." In other words, it was that man's conception of the duty of an American legislative body to take advantage of the opportunity, the psychology of war, to place upon the statute books of the American people a law that would afterwards be offensive to them. That is the standpoint of a zealot, but it is not the legitimate attitude of one who would legislate with the best interests of this country at heart.

The other day when the chairman stood before us to present this bill he warned us that if we did not support it we would be defeated. His close affiliation with the Anti-Saloon League, I fear, has caused him to acquire something of its philosophy. To my mind it makes not a particle of difference what the votes yesterday were or what the votes of tomorrow may be. The man who comes to this Congress is unfit to be here unless he is willing to go down to defeat for voting for what he believes to be right. And when the time comes that the standard of American politics will be to count noses and vote according to the noses, the real basis of liberty in America will have departed.

The philosophy of the Anti-Saloon League is that every American Congressman thinks more of his seat than he does of anything else. A few months ago I was in the office of a Senator of the United States when a lobbyist came into the office and said to his clerk, the clerk of a Senator who had followed the prohibition cause all the way through loyalty, and said, "We want you to give the Senator to understand that if he does not vote so-and-so in a committee on a certain bill, we are going to follow him up to his State and defeat him for reelection." And that man was not kicked out of that office, as he deserved to be. The philosophy of the liquor boss: "If you can not rule an officer, ruin him."

Now, that is the standard that is adopted. Last November the President signed this war prohibition act 10 days after the war was ended. The President is responsible primarily to the American people for a war prohibition act that went into effect after the war was over. Congress passed the act before the armistice. Immaterial details were agreed on in conference afterwards, but it was the President's signature, after the war was over, that made it possible to have prohibition go into effect when the war was over. Now, when that happened some of these lobbyists in the dry cause thought they had the President boot, baggage, and all. Under their leadership they had induced the President to do that absurd thing. But the President was excusable to a large degree. This dry measure was connected with an Agricultural bill as a rider at a time when the President's mind was busily engaged on other great questions. Had the President courageously vetoed the measure, it would have been re-enacted without the rider when Congress reassembled within two weeks. It is commendable to the President that after a few months he recommended it should be repealed. Then what happened? Every one of these papers, such as the ClipSheet, that comes to Members of Congress, started a vicious attack on the President of the United States. Their attack is mildly summarized in these words:

"The strong condemnation of the church has settled upon the head of the President."

In other words, they are going to excommunicate the President because he recommended the ban on beer and wine should be lifted. The whole ClipSheet, purporting to be published by the Board of Temperance, Prohibition, and Public Morals of the Methodist Church, was devoted to detraction and vicious attacks upon the President. That was simply a method of flourishing the club and trying to force the President of the United States to hoist the white flag of surrender to the Anti-Saloon League. A prominent dry declared, "The President will never lift the ban; he is afraid to."

What happened in the next issue of the ClipSheet? It contained this language in black type:

Notice: "No man can be elected President of the United States in 1920 who is not openly and emphatically in favor of strict enforcement of the prohibition law. Every reform agency and every church and every informed patriot will fight a man of any other type to a finish, no matter whether he is Republican, Democrat, or Mugwump."

In other words, the notice of the Anti-Saloon League to every man in this country who might aspire to be President of the United States was, "Come and place your neck under the yoke of a church political organization or you can not be President of the American Republic."

Another recent issue of the ClipSheet was entirely devoted to an attack upon the delegates of the American Federation of Labor, who gathered in front of the Capitol requesting the repeal of war prohibition so far as it prohibited the use of beer containing not more than 2.75 per cent of alcohol. Delegates representing over 2,000,000 union laborers in the United States gathered in a quiet, orderly, law-abiding manner in front of the Capitol Building and as humble American citizens presented their protest against what they believed to be an unjust usurpation of their rights. The ClipSheet headed its tirade, "The Bolshevik Marches on Congress."

In further describing these men, representing the great bodies of union labor in America, the following words were used:

"Vicious liquor interests will march on Washington, hoist the red flag of Bolshevism and law defiance in front of the Capitol. The moral effect will be open defiance of the Government, the flaunting of Bolshevism and revolution, the encouragement of anarchy. It is a burning insult to the people of Washington and the Nation at large that such a demonstration be permitted to take place, and it is but adding insult to injury to give it the protection of the police."

Law-defying, pro-liquor element, headed by Samuel Gompers and his ilk. Most vicious and law-defying element the world has known. Helping break down law and order that Bolshevism may dominate. Low element fostered and backed by the liquor interests.

Followers of the outlawed liquor trade. Radicals, anarchists, Bolsheviks, thieves, thugs, gunmen, pro-German sympathizers, and weak-kneed individuals.

The permission to hold this demonstration is an absolute surrender to a disloyal element, masquerading behind the name of "labor" and harboring in its arms the spirit of treason and Bolshevism.

Allowing a direct demonstration against properly enacted law will only encourage and embolden the lawless elements to rise up against the government, and will imperil the safety of the Nation.

Pro-German element, as treacherous as the crowd across the sea. Drive them from the country that America may be a fit place in which to live.

We have no place for those who defy our Government."

Connected with this tirade of false, vicious, and unwarranted abuse was a reference to the "Christian ideals" of the people the ClipSheet claims to represent. To men of the character who edit the ClipSheet, Christian ideals are exact baggage. The theories of the ClipSheet have little relation to the mission of the friend of "publicans and sinners." They belong to the ultra-religious class who crucified the Saviour. They belong to the class that stood on the streets and thanked God that they were not as other men. They are the class of whom the Saviour said, "Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees."

This type of preacher-politician is the same type of men who thirty years ago used the pulpits of America to stir up all the bitter hatreds of the A. P. A. movement.

There is a large California orphan asylum in my district where at that time hundreds of unfortunate parentless children were cared for by the Catholic Church, in a form of charity of which the world knows no better. In order to provide the orphan asylum with a sufficient supply of water excavations were made on the top of an adjoining hill on which to place a reservoir. A preacher-politician editing a paper, similar to the ClipSheet, after a scare-head report that the Catholics were fortifying the orphanage, preparing for a revolution, when they were going to seek to take over the Government and destroy the Protestants.

Eventually falsehood, uncharitableness, and Phariseism take their course. Truth, fairness, and common sense will yet prevail.

KEPT LOG OF WAR CRUISE

Submarines Make Supreme Effort During May and June, 1918, To Sink U. S. S. Leviathan.

May 31st, 1918, at Brest, France. All troops and their equipment sent on shore, also the naval detachment and their effects. Ship is being guarded day and night by patrol vessels.

June 1, 1918, at Brest, France. Finished coaling. Got underway at 5:30 p. m. and headed for Roadstead under convoy of 2 destroyers and 3 hydroplanes which kept circling far above us and some distance ahead of us. At 6:30 p. m. a submarine was sighted directly in our path and in the act of submerging to attack us. We instantly opened fire with all guns that could be brought to bear and scored two hits, making 2 subs destroyed by our own gunfire on this voyage. The destroyers quickly covered the spot and dropped 6 depth charges. At 6:45 p. m. a second sub was sighted by one of the hydroplanes and the destroyers quickly made for the spot and dropped more depth charges. So far the Kaiser's edict to his Sub. Commanders "get the Leviathan or die" has been carried out to the letter. They have not returned two having surrendered at Brest and four destroyed of the twelve working under the Royal order.

June 2, 1918, at sea off the coast of France making passage to New York. Speed 22 knots changing course at 5 minute intervals. At 4:30 p. m. destroyers took their departure and headed for Brest, we being out of the danger zone. A dispatch of German origin via Amsterdam to the effect that "the Leviathan is making her last trip," so far has not proven true, thanks to our destroyers, our gunners and our speed. All well and cheerful.

June 3rd, June 5th, at sea making passage to New York. Conditions unchanged. Held target practice which lasted 45 minutes. All guns did fine. Mr. Irving Cobb delivered a very interesting lecture on the war, past, present and future and paid tribute to the men of the various American branches of service.

June 6th, 1918, at sea. Speed 18 knots per hour. At 2 p. m. sighted a fleet of 30 vessels under convoy of 2 warships heading for Europe. All loaded with food and supplies. At 3:30 p. m. we were passed by two transports, the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific which we left at Brest. Their estimated speed while passing us was 25 knots per hr.

AUTO ASSOCIATION WITH US

California State Automobile Association Will Urge Action On Schellville Road.

The following letter written by the Santa Rosa manager, Mr. Scott calling the attention of his association, the Calif. State Automobile Association to the Schellville state highway work is of interest to all Sonoma valley good road boosters:

Santa Rosa, July 19, '19
Calif. State Automobile Association,
1628 Van Ness Ave.
San Francisco, Cal.

Attention Mr. Watkins:
Dear Mr. Watkins:
Permit me to call your attention to the importance of a connecting road in the State system, the Santa Rosa-Schellville road.

But a glimpse at the State road map will disclose to your discerning eye the fact that all Sacramento and San Joaquin tourists going either to our coast of scenic resorts as well as those having a northern objective must travel this road. Its present deplorable condition presents no invitation to tourists. Many of our Association members as well as the people, generally speaking, are anxious that this important unit receive the attention of the Highway Commission and that it be pointed out to this Commission the urgent need of early construction here.

The Board of Supervisors at the request of many of our leading citizens have appointed a committee to meet with the Commission to urge the just claim for this early construction. The Taxpayers' Association have appointed a committee, consisting of its President, its Secretary and Mr. E. C. Rand to urge upon the Commission early action.

I have been requested to urge the Automobile Association to appoint representatives to perform a like service. The people recognize the influence and power of the Automobile Association and will be greatly pleased if you will co-operate.

Trusting you will assist us to obtain this desired object, I am,

Yours very truly,
Charles O. Scott,

Manager Santa Rosa Branch Office

The reply to the above was as follows:

Chas. Scott, Manager,
Calif. State Automobile Association,
Santa Rosa, Cal.

Dear Sir:

CONVICTED OF RECKLESS DRIVING

Arthur Rossi, a San Francisco business man, who crowded Joe Kiser on a bridge near Schellville over which both were driving their autos and damaged Kiser's car, was up in court Tuesday and stood trial before a jury. The jury was chosen from the following citizens:

H. Weyl, F. C. Wyatt, P. Schneider, W. W. Carter, A. Clerici, P. Boecoli, C. Antognini, L. H. Parker, A. Pinelli, Wm. Cause, W. R. Hansen, J. D. Halsted, J. Cofeen and M. J. Pierce.

A verdict of guilty was arrived at and Judge Small fined the defendant $25. A bigger fine would have been imposed if it is said but Rossi it is understood will make reparation to Mr. Kiser for the damages done to his car. The imposition of a larger fine by the court would have benefited the county only.

Rossi's own car was damaged in the collision which evidence went to show was caused by his having taken the wrong side of the road on the night of the accident several weeks ago.

REITH SHIPS APPLES FROM SONOMA

Reith and Chelini of the Sonoma Apple Dryer shipped a carload of green fruit this week from Sonoma. The shipment consisted of 740 boxes of apples and is said to be the first car of apples to leave this city as heretofore all the honors were with Vineburg as a shipping center. Mr. Reith aims to put Sonoma on the map as an apple depot. The apples were shipped to Nebraska.

THIS WILL ASTONISH SONOMA PEOPLE

The quick action of simple witch-hazel, hydnarstis, camphor, etc., as mixed in Lavoptik eye wash, will surprise Sonoma people. One girl with weak, strained eyes was helped by a single application. Her mother could hardly sew or read because of eye pains. In one week she too was benefited. We guarantee a bottle of Lavoptik to help ANY CASE weak, strained or inflamed eyes. Aluminum eye cup FREE. Sold by James McElney, Druggist.

I want to advise that no one appreciates more than I do the importance of improving the Schellville road.

Your communication will be turned over to our Good Roads Committee and I am sure they will go to the bat for you.

Yours very truly,
D. E. Watkins,
Secretary and Manager

Senator Slater received the following letter from the State Highway Commission in reply to one sent urging an early survey and construction of the Santa Rosa-Schellville road:

California Highway Commission, Forum Building, Sacramento, July 21 1919. Senator Herbert Slater, Santa Rosa, Calif., Dear Sir:

In reply to your favor of the 18th, inst., the commission wishes to assure you that the matter of beginning work on the proposed Santa Rosa-Schellville lateral will receive the earliest possible attention, compatible with the commission's State-wide road building program.

Appreciating your interest and inquiring your advice at all times.

Very respectfully yours,
California Highway Commission,
By W. R. Ellis, Secretary.

A SPRING WITH A "KICK" IN IT

L. O. Walz of Healdsburg has invited his friends to shoot deer at his ranch, Big Buck Bend in the following clever form of invitation.

Big Buck Bend Ranch, L. O. Walz Healdsburg, Cal. July 1919. Dear Friend:

Big bucks are plentiful this year, potatoes, prunes, onions, garlic, sugar and tobacco are out of sight. Gasoline is plentiful and automobiles are numerous. The roads are good and uphill is uphill and downhill goes easy. The crop of ticks, thrip and water dogs is very short. All these things considered, and in consideration of our friendship for you, and we trust you like us, too, we are pleased to invite you to be with us at our gathering at the Big Buck Bend Camp, to begin August 3, 1919. We do herewith solemnly guarantee that you will get a buck if you will come out to the camp.

There is a mineral spring near the camp which by expert analysis shows a trace over one-half of one per cent.

Bring your gun and ammunition and bedding. We have the grub and mineral water. Come to the camp with your iron washers and have a good time with us.

Sincerely yours, L. O. Walz
Host for the Big Buck Bend Boys
Dated in the year of prohibition and after the war.

Frank R. Ross of Sonoma enlisted at the Navy Recruiting Office at Santa Rosa for the Naval Air Service, with preference of going to any Naval Air Station in the U. S. He chose New York, as he has relatives in that state. Any young men between the ages of 17 and 35 can take advantage of this wonderful opportunity. Enlistments are for 2, 3 or 4 years. The Navy Recruiting Officers of Santa Rosa will be pleased to give any information in regards to the New Pacific Fleet which in the very near future will be in California waters. Navy Recruiting Officers, W. F. McElroy and Geo. Ellison.

A man named Lazier died recently in San Diego. He had a mind full of kindness for the inmates of the Sonoma State Home for the Feeble Minded at Eldridge in the Sonoma Valley. And when his will was read it was found that he had left one thousand dollars to be expended for the benefit of the inmates of the home it being left to the board of managers to spend it as they saw fit so that it might in some way bring more happiness into the lives of the children.

JOHN L. PETERS TO TAKE UP IMPORTANT HIGHWAY WORK

John L. Peters, the secretary of the Sonoma County Taxpayers' Association, has agreed to undertake the procuring of the rights of way for the permanent roads in Sonoma county. This is important work and as Mr. Peters was so successful in his work for the promotion of the good roads bonds the Supervisors and others feel that he will be just the right man to obtain the rights of way.

STATE TREASURER "SOME" FINANCIER

SACRAMENTO, July 28.—During the past six months interest collections on state deposits have exceeded in amount any like period in the history of the state, according to a report just made by State Treasurer Friend W. Richardson. The collections from January 1 to July 1 this year total $175,172.81, and show that the earning power of the state's money has been increased by Richardson 33 per cent and will mean an annual gain of more than $60,000.

At present the rate of interest on deposits averages 3.11 per cent. Recently bids have been running at 3 3/4 and 3 1/2 per cent. When Richardson took office the average rate was less than 2 1/3 per cent. The increase has been brought about by a strict compliance with the law in putting deposits on a competitive basis.

The total amount of interest collections this year will probably exceed $300,000, and this amount will pay all the running expenses of the state treasurer's offices: Governor, secretary of state, controller, attorney general, surveyor general, superintendent of public instruction, state board of equalization and state board of education.

MURRAY'S CHARGE BLOWS UP

No Witnesses Produced In Fetters Liquor Selling Case So Judge Small Dismissed It Tuesday.

The complaint sworn to on June 18th, by Constable Murray charging Mr. and Mrs. Fetters of Fetters Springs with selling intoxicating liquor without obtaining a license blow up Tuesday in court here the day set for the trial of the action. The Fetters represented by Attorney Wm. E. Cowen were ready to proceed but the thrills which Murray promised to furnish by producing a prominent and convivially inclined Napa citizen as a witness against them and a Napa banker, who was guarding the afore-said citizen's exchequer during his periodical taggents, failed to materialize. As a result all the scarce head excitement attending the latest attempt of Murray to get the well known resort proprietors in the legal dragnet petered out pathetically when it became apparent that the Constable's witnesses were non est.

It was whispered about the court room that Justice Small had joggled Murray's attention last week with the fact that subpoenas should be issued as the defense would undoubtedly be ready to proceed but he evidently said little heed to the advice presumably believing that it might be a bigger feather in his cap to keep something hanging over Fetters' head than to go on with his "case" providing a continuance was forthcoming.

When the deputy District Attorney Ross Campbell, failed to throw any light on the situation Tuesday and was compelled to admit that the prosecution was unprepared to proceed Attorney Cowen of the defense asked Judge Small to dismiss the case against his clients, who were in court prepared to face their accusers.

Judge Small in view of all the facts dismissed the action.

It was plainly apparent that had there been any real grounds on which to prosecute the action started by Murray against the resort keepers the bustling Mr. Campbell, assistant district attorney, would have prosecuted it relentlessly but realizing the far-fetched circumstances on which the action was based and the lethargy of the complainant in digging up his "star" witnesses, he was evidently satisfied not to put the county to any more needless expense.

The case grew out of a cattle buyer's visit to Sonoma valley last month the catching by him of a couple of big checks which his banker held up on account of his reputation of "rolling em high" occasionally and the discovery by Sonoma's foxy Constable that the cattle man had been staying at Fetters hotel. One check was cashed up the valley and another one by John Steiner, the Napa sport having spent here just 20c out of the $100 check for two drinks explaining that he wanted the check cashed to pay for repairs to his automobile and for having it towed home. Steiner cashed the check as a matter of accommodation but both this check and another of similar amount were evidently scrutinized and judged to be "money for booze" by the banker who held it up. Subsequently when Mr. Steiner had the Napa man arrested to force him to make good, the banker there explained his protective system and paid his client's checks in full. During the untangling of this episode, Constable Murray thought he saw a good chance to throw a protecting mantle too around the Napa man and also throw his hooks into the Fetters but the Napa man a conscientious objector to such tactics and counting no further publicity, refused to be a party to the charges conjured up and preferred by Sonoma's astute official with the result that the case set for trial last Tuesday fell flat and terminated as above stated.

BELL OF ST. FRANCIS DE SOLANO MISSION MAY RING OUT AGAIN HERE

The old bell from the Mission St. Francis Solano on Spain St. may be restored to Sonoma now that the Suro estate is settled.

Some years ago an appeal was made by the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club to Suro's daughter for the historic old emblem of the days of the padres. The bell had reposed in the Suro Museum for years. The Club was told that when the Suro estate was settled and distributed the bell might be available. Announcement of the winding up of the affairs of the late Adolph Suro has revived hopes that the church founded by Father Altamira in Sonoma in 1824 will again claim the bell which had been down the valley and called the faithful to prayer in pioneer days.
